THE ELECTION CAMPAIGN.

New Government's Policy of Negation.

(Reuter's Service.)

London, November 2.
Mr. Bonar Law, addressing 2,250 women at the Drury Lane Theatre, said he had favoured woman's suffrage since boyhood. The tendency of women was towards conservative cautiousness, which the Government needed. He defended his famous "the people don't know where they are" phrase and said he was wondering whether Mr. Lloyd George knew where he was. Mr. Lloyd George had so far not issued his election address; he (Mr. Bonar Law) suggested that Mr. Lloyd George was waiting on Providence. He repudiated the suggestion that the Coalition had treated Mr. Lloyd George unfairly. Mr. Lloyd George, despite his great services, could not expect to be Premier permanently. The Coalition was destroyed because the people did not know where they were or were likely to be under Mr. Lloyd George's rule. He concluded by saying that he wished the policy of the Government to be regarded as one of negation.

"Sit Still and Go Slow"

Mr. Bonar Law, in the course of his speech at Drury Lane, repeated that his policy was one of negation. He said there were times when it was good to sit still and go slow. Our relations with France must be the keynote of our foreign policy. We really had common aims, and although it might be found (though he hoped not) that we were unable to agree, we could make it plain to France that we were her friends and that any breach of understanding would be fatal to both and to the peace of the world. Mr. Bonar Law without criticism of American policy, ventured to hope that America would gradually take an interest in the League of Nations in some form or other and feel it her duty to help in dispelling the chaos created by the war.

The Labour Debate.

London, November 2.
The latest returns emphasise the completeness of the Labour debacle in the London municipal elections. Nearly 200 Labour seats were lost in the 17 out of 28 Boroughs for which the returns have so far been published.

The Labourites were completely cleared out of five Boroughs, including Paddington, where Labour previously held 21 seats; Fulham, where they held 23 seats; Southwark, where they held 30; and Wandsworth, where they held 13.

The Municipal Reformers (roughly corresponding to the Conservatives) and occasionally candidates run merely under the auspices of Ratepayers' Associations almost everywhere swept the field.

An Overwhelming Defeat.

Complete returns of the London Borough Council elections tell the same story of a Labour rout. Whereas in the old Councils Labour had 173 seats, it now has only 20. Labour has a majority in four out of 28 Boroughs but not a single representative in eleven. The figures from the Provinces indicate similar overwhelming defeats.

THE MOTOR EXHIBITION.

Cheaper Cars: Novel Features.

Several novel features and improvements in motor car construction are to be seen at the Motor Exhibition, now one of London's most popular annual shows, necessitating the use of the Olympia, White City. There is a magnificent array of vehicles and the latest motor luxuries. Prices are appreciably lower than last year, though this is more manifest in the super cars. Some cars are priced below £200, but reliable vehicles range rather higher. One novelty is a "three-seater" two-seater, in which the third seat is housed behind the main accommodation. Thus the occupant of the spare seat is equally protected when the hood is raised. A most common exhibit is a motor perambulator with a tiny engine developing the most limited speed.

CHRISTIANS IN ASIA MINOR.

To Be Expelled.

Constantinople, November 2.
The American Relief Committee has received a telegram from the Ankara National Assembly, announcing its decision to expel all native Christians remaining in Asia Minor. The Americans calculate that over half a million will be affected.

The new Governor of Adrianople has issued a proclamation saying that non-Muslims remaining in Thrace will be protected; that all alcoholic beverages will be seized; and that the export of cereals is prohibited. He adds that should the gendarmerie prove insufficient for requirements, well-conducted villagers will be enrolled as auxiliaries.

CANADA AND UNITED STATES.

Canadian Minister to Washington.

London, November 2.
The Manchester Guardian correspondent at Ottawa, says that Sir Charles Fitz Patrick, the Lieut. Governor of Quebec, is expected shortly to be appointed as first Canadian Minister to Washington. Sir Auckland Geddes recently conferred with the Prime Minister, Mr. Mackenzie King, at Ottawa, on the subject of the relations between the United States and Canada, including Canadian representation at Washington.

"TINO" TO BE TRIED.

Blamed for Anatolian Debacle.

Athens, November 2.
The newspapers state that investigations have fixed ex-King Constantine's responsibility for the debacle in Anatolia in assuming supreme command of the Army and otherwise as chief of a ruinous political and military regime. He will therefore be requested to appear before a Commission of Inquiry. If he does not appear, he will be tried in absentia with a number of ex-Ministers and Generals.

ALLIED MILITARY IN GERMANY.

Evacuation a Matter of Months.

London, November 2.
It is announced in London that the process of the abolition of the Inter-Allied Military Commission, which Germany has only accepted in principle, is bound to take months, even if compliance with the conditions mentioned yesterday proceeds smoothly.

ALLEGED EXTENSIVE FRAUDS.

Tobacco Firm's Losses.

CHINESE DEALERS SUSPECTED.

Involving a considerable loss for the Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company, what appears to have been a series of frauds has been brought to notice following a report by the local manager of the Company to the police of numerous cases of cigarettes having been stolen "by a trick." In this connection, several Chinese dealers are suspected to have been implicated in the matter.

Important arrests are expected to follow, but for the moment the police and the Company are reticent on the subject. Information obtained from other sources by a Telegraph reporter, however, is that for some time past a number of Chinese sub-agents or dealers, having business connections with the Tobacco Company, are alleged to have secretly received certain lots of cigarettes that had been condemned by the Company as being unfit for sale, but which, without the Company's knowledge, were secretly diverted into the dealers' shops and exposed for sale.

A certain measure of responsibility is taken by the Company to see that stale cigarettes are destroyed by the Sanitary Department, but in the last case, which led to the discovery of the frauds, thirty out of sixty cases of Old Mill cigarettes that were supposed to have gone stale, are said to have been diverted, during the process of transit from the Company's godown at Mongkok to the Sanitary Department offices, and distributed amongst dealers.

These concerned in this alleged fraud have benefited not only as to the cost of the cigarettes but also as to the amount of the duties which under ordinary circumstances should have been payable to the Revenue Department. The same trick, the reporter was given to understand, was also practised in the case of other consignments of condemned cigarettes.

Those concerned in these transactions are said to have benefited to the extent of $70,000 by the illicit sale of cigarettes that should otherwise have gone to the incinerator.

FOOTBALLERS' U.S. TOUR.

Dick Kerr's girl footballers, unbeaten for four years, left Preston for two months' tour in the United States, Canada, where 24 matches will be played.

RUSSO-BRITISH RELATIONS.

Better News from Riga.

Riga, November 2.
The Frankfurter states that Russo-British relations are now sufficiently satisfactory to allow of the resumption of negotiations on the Urubart contract. The agreement concluded in Berlin in that connection should be acceptable after revision.

WORLD'S WELTER WEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP.

Jack Britton Defeated.

New York, November 2.
In a fifteen round contest for the World's Welter Weight Championship, Mickey Walker, of Newark, New Jersey, outpointed Jack Britton, the holder.

DR. DE COLBERT.

Still in Custody in Canton.

Our Canton correspondent reports that Dr. de Colbert has undergone several examinations by the military tribunal, but no definite evidence associating him with the bomb outrages has yet been secured. He is still held in custody at the military headquarters, but he is allowed to be attended by one of his sons, meals being sent to him twice daily by his wife.

THE ARMS SEIZURES.

Smyth and Pitts Charged.

Owen James Smyth and William E. Pitts, who are being held by the police on a charge of smuggling arms into the Colony, as a result of the seizure made at the Palace Hotel, where the former was staying, to-day appeared on remand before Mr. E. W. Hamilton, at the Police Court.

Mr. F. G. Vaux, under instructions from the American Consul-General, appeared to defend Pitts, who, until this test, was employed as second steward aboard the President Jefferson. Mr. Vaux asked for a reduction of bail, as it was impossible for his client to raise the $5,000 fixed by the Court. The defendant, Mr. Vaux pointed out, had been in custody for some time and the police well knew what his means were.

Chief Detective-Insp.ctor Morrison said he would not object to the bail being reduced to $3,000. Mr. Vaux suggested that the sum should be further lowered to $2,000, which his client might be able to raise.

His Worship commented on the serious nature of the case, and also on the fact that a Chinese, who was one of the two other prisoners arrested in the case, had previously "jumped" his bail, notwithstanding that it was fixed at $5,000.

A remand for a week was ordered, bail for Pitts being fixed at $3,000. Smyth was extended a continuation of the $1,000 bail previously fixed in his case.

In regard to the seizure made at the King Edward Hotel, the three men arrested in this case were also brought up for another week's remand before the other Magistrate. They are on bail of $1,000 each.

THE RUBBER MARKET.

A Slight Reaction.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Singapore, November 3.
London rubber stocks stand at 53,604 tons, a decrease of 506. There is a slight reaction in Singapore market, but it is not regarded seriously.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Singapore, Nov. 3.
Professor Einstein, accompanied by his wife, has arrived by the Kitano Maru, en route to China and Japan. He was cordially given a reception by the Jewish community, and there was eulogistic speechmaking. The Bishop was present.

RUSSIAN REFUGEES.

Chinese Fear Trouble.

Peking, Nov. 3.—Dispatches from Hungchun report that the local authorities are faced with increasing difficulties through the influx of Russians, of whom 1,800 had arrived by Saturday. A fear of trouble is expressed, as the refugees are without food and many without money.

Tokyo, Nov. 2.—The Nichi Nichi publishes a special message from Genzan saying that 26 Russian vessels commanded by Admiral Stark, including seven gunboats, four despatch boats and nine transports, carrying 7,500 Russian refugees from Vladivostok are now anchored at Genzan. Owing to difficulties of receiving them, the authorities have ordered their departure, but Admiral Stark is requesting provision and coal and asking for permission to land the refugees. He told an Asahi correspondent that he does not know where to go next.

FUKIEN AFFAIRS.

Admiral Sah Asked to Resign.

Peking, Nov. 3.—Reports from Foochow indicate that the Southern leaders are strengthening their positions. A meeting on Monday between Generals Hsu Sung-chih and Wang Yung-chuan and representatives of the Provincial Assembly and Chamber of Commerce resolved to ask Admiral Sah Chen-ping to resign from the Civil Governorship, and Lin Sen was thereupon nominated as his successor. Moreover, the Military Government has asked Admiral Sah to surrender the forts at Pagoda Anchorage.

JAPAN'S MILITARY EXPENDITURE.

Only Small Decrease for Next Year.

Tokyo, November 2nd.—The army appropriations for the coming year show only eight million yen decrease but the authorities point out that allowances to retiring officers and workers necessitate the keeping up of the expense for the coming year, but thereafter they will show at least a thirty million reduction.

SHANGHAI STRIKES.

The Movement Spreading.

Shanghai, November 3.—The Japan-China Cotton Mills strike, mentioned yesterday, has been followed by sympathetic strikes—one at the International Mills and one at the B.A.T. The movement is believed to be spreading.

HANKOW STRIKE SETTLED.

Hankow, November 2.—The cigarette strike was settled last night, concessions being granted by both sides.

ARMED ROBBERIES.

A Plucky Woman.

Considerable pluck was shown by Chung Kit-ching, a married woman living at a house in Warren Street, Taihang village, yesterday afternoon in an armed robbery. At the time, the only other inmates of the house were her two children and a servant girl. Notwithstanding the precaution she took in first looking through a peep-hole when a knock summoned her to the door, she was completely deceived by the statement that came from three men standing outside that they were workmen from the Electric Company, come to examine the fittings. The door was opened, and the three men, after making a pretence of looking round the place for some time, suddenly followed her into the cubicle, where one of them grabbed her by the neck and another gagged her by forcing an orange into her mouth. A dagger was used to terrify her, but she made a grab at it as it was being held against her chest, and received a cut in the hand. The third man looked after the children. At this moment, a commotion on the staircase leading to the upper floor scared the robbers. They abandoned all further intentions and made a precipitate flight into the street. The woman, followed them, and, marking down the man who had caused her the injury, pursued him into John Street, only to lose sight of him a moment later. The police arrived very soon afterwards, but succeeded in making no arrests.

Chung Tak, a coolie employed at the Taifoo Sugar Refinery, and living at No. 12 Bridge Road, Quarry Bay, woke up at 8.30 this morning to find that the bedclothes had been pulled off him and that the muzzle of a revolver was being pressed against his chest. The stranger who held the weapon, after impressing on the victim the importance of maintaining silence, grabbed him by the neck and marched him off to the kitchen. Here he found that the other inmates of the house had gone through the same harassing experience. Together with them he was bound and gagged, this work being performed by a number of other robbers who had followed their leader on to the floor. The kitchen door was fastened from the outside before the gang started to divest the place of its valuables. The extent of the haul made is estimated to come up to $257.

CHAN AND SUN.

The Reconciliation Rumour.

According to our Canton correspondent, it is rumoured that General Chan King-ming is disposed to be conciliatory to Dr. Sun Yat-sen. He, however, insists on being Commander-in-Chief of all the military forces, though he is willing to agree to Dr. Sun appointing anyone to the Civil Governorship, excepting Wu Hon-man or Hsu Sung-chih. A report to hand to-day states that a telegram had been received from Dr. Sun's representative, in Foochow, Chu Shiu-ching, who had been on a visit to Canton, stating that matters are progressing well. Chu is stated to have also said that he intends going to Shanghai, presumably for a conference with Dr. Sun, before returning to Canton to see General Chan King-ming. Hsu Sung-chi and Li Fook-lun are in Fukien, and Chu's present visit to that province is said to be connected with the reported negotiations for a reconciliation.

GOETHE RELICS SAVED.

A Berlin message says—The Lyon Court has issued a verdict that the Goethe relics lent for exhibition before the war and seized during the war and consigned to be sold, whereby much ill feeling has been caused all over the world, should be exempted from sale.

THE THEATRICAL SEASON.

Charles Workman Coming.

Hongkong is to be well catered for theatrically this coming season. Several companies are booked to appear at the Theatre Royal this winter, and as most of them have played to local audiences before they need no recommendation. One of the biggest treats in store is the visit of Charles Workman, who takes the lead in the J. C. Williamson Gilbert and Sullivan Opera Company, of Australia, who commence their season in Hongkong on February 9th.

The Italian Opera Company, with some of the big artists who were here in 1913, is due at the Theatre Royal shortly. The cast includes the well-known actor Scamuzzi, who has made a great name for himself during a recent tour in Australia.

Hongkong theatre-goers will welcome a return visit of the "Powder Puff," who will be here again towards the end of the month.

Those whose tastes lead towards the terpsichorean art will look forward to December 2nd, when the world-famous Pavlova opens her season locally. Chelfo and Palermo, two conjurers who are not strangers to this Colony, are due to open on December 18th.

The Bandman's Farical Company, who are with us now, have made such a hit that a return visit from this talented Company will be anticipated with much pleasure. They are due to visit Hongkong again on Jan. 10th.

The Hawaiian Troubadours, other favourites with Hongkong audiences, will be seen again at the Theatre Royal in the early part of next year. They have booked from January 31st to February 8th, and their next visit will be under the direction of Bandman's.

Lovers of drama will have an opportunity of seeing Robert Courtneidge's Company later on in the season. They are due to open on March 7th.

This is the programme Messrs. Montrie's have in hand up to the present. Other entertainers are corresponding with them with the object of paying the Colony a visit and during the season more companies are almost sure to decide to give shows here, so it appears, from a theatrical point of view, Hongkong is going to have plenty to see this coming winter.

MUI TSAL.

Interesting Points in Court.

Chen Wong, a married woman, was charged at the Magistracy yesterday with harbouring a servant girl, under 21 years of age, and with obtaining $70 from another woman by false representations.

Mr. A. E. Wood, assistant in the Secretariat for Chinese Affairs, prosecuted and Mr. R. E. A. Webster defended.

The girl is 17 years old and owned by a Chinese family living at 7 Chun Shing Street, West Point, where the defendant also lived. On the 27th April last, according to the evidence of the girl, her mistress had returned to Sun On. The girl left the house to make a purchase with the defendant's daughter and returning home found that her mistress had unexpectedly come back from the village. The latter admonished her for leaving the house despite the instructions to the contrary and smacked her several times. There the matter ended. In the course of a conversation the next day the defendant referred to the treatment received by the girl the previous day and made the suggestion that the latter run away. The woman's persuasions apparently induced the girl who early on the morning of the 28th went over to Yuenmum with the defendant's daughter. The defendant arranged a marriage between the girl and a young man named Lau Su receiving $70 from the bridegroom's mother. On the 30th October the girl was discovered by her master in Shaozhai Street, Yuenmum, and the arrest of the defendant followed. It is alleged that the defendant represented to the bridegroom's mother that the girl was her niece and parentless.

The Lawful Guardian. In the course of the trial the Magistrate asked Mr. Wood what was the present position as regards the girl and the control of them.

Mr. Wood replied that the Ordinance showed that no person was allowed to take away or harbour an unmarried girl under the age of 21 without the consent of the girl's guardian. The Magistrate then asked: The person having the lawful control of the girl, but who is the lawful guardian of the girl?

The law says there is no such thing. Mr. Wood pointed out that technically speaking he did not think there was any law about the lawful control of a girl at present. That was a point to be dealt with later.

The Magistrate said that he understood from the proclamation recently that a girl named Lau Su existed.

Mr. Wood replied that the guardianship would devolve on the Secretary for Chinese Affairs in the case of "orphaned" girls. That being so it would be necessary to have the written consent of the S.C.A. if a suitable person was found to whom the girl was to be entrusted. The S.C.A. would first give his consent. Mr. Wood said that the girl was placed on the defendant to prove that she had the consent of the lawful guardian. He thought the general intention of the Ordinance was quite clear. The defendant had to show consent.

Mr. Webster said that his defence was that the defendant took the girl and the money under different circumstances. His client was acting in behalf of the cohabiting in the girl's household.

The case was adjourned until Monday for the evidence of the cohabiting.

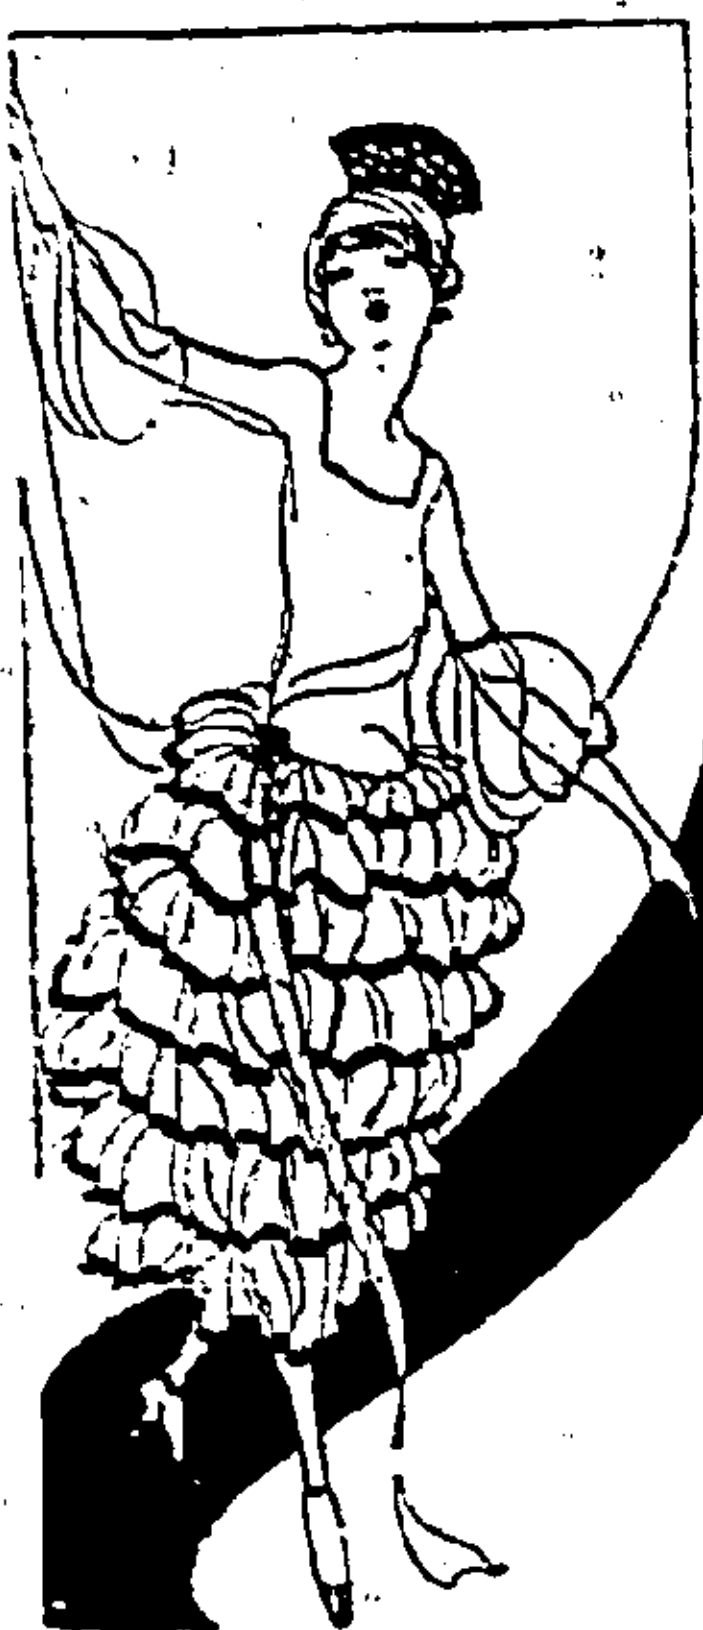

THE CANTON LOAN.

Reassuring the Public.

Discontent is still being expressed in Canton over the Foreign Loans, and the many requests for a clearer explanation of the terms have brought from the Civil Government the statement that as the new Chief of the Municipality has assumed office to subscribe his signature to the loan, the whole contents of the agreement will be published.

The Finance Department, in order to satisfy public opinion, has agreed to the suggestion that a Public Financial Committee be appointed to supervise the use of the money to be obtained under the loans. The Committee will comprise two representatives of the Provincial Assembly, two from the Educational Department, two from the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce and two from the Lappa Labour Union. Any application of the funds for any particular purpose is made conditional on the concurrence of a majority of the committee.

INTERRUPTED PRAYERS

Chinese Priests Discover a Bomb.

Lai Chee Wan, which is the pleasure resort for Canton people, now has a big match which has been specially erected for religious ceremonies in connection with the soldiers who were killed in the recent coup. A large number of monks and priests have for the past few days been offering prayers for the repose of the spirits of the departed heroes, but one morning, so a report which reached us yesterday states, there was a stampede when the discovery was made of an attempt to blow up the structure. Certain of the priests sensed the smell of gunpowder whilst at their prayers, in the morning, and on investigations a long fuse was discovered connected up with a bomb hidden under the altar where the tablets containing the names of the dead soldiers were placed. By the application of water, the fuse, which showed evidence of having burnt for some time, was cut out, and the bomb, which was two feet long and of cylindrical form, was removed to the police headquarters.

"A YOUNG FOOL."

Tailor Rebuked.

Ho Pik-shan, a tailor, appeared on remand at the Magistracy yesterday on charges of possession of a loaded revolver whilst drunk and of offering a bribe of $10 to a European Sergeant. The defendant held a permit for carrying arms. He was arrested at Shek-tung-mi and a number of ricksha coolies with a revolver.

Mr. A. E. Hall, defending, admitted both charges. He said that on the night in question his client attended a wedding feast and apparently imbibed rather freely. Defendant engaged a ricksha to return home, and on the way he fell asleep. When he woke up he found the ricksha stationary and the coolie peering into his face so intently that he felt apprehensive of his own safety. Drawing out his revolver the defendant ordered the ricksha coolie to proceed, but the latter refused and bolted. Defendant chased him with his revolver. As regards the bribery charge Mr. Hall said that the accused had very hazy recollections of what actually happened. He said that he might have offered to give $10 to the Sergeant, but did not actually hand over the money.

Inspector Kent stated that the Sergeant was told by the defendant that if $10 was not sufficient he would pay the Sergeant some more at the Central Market the next day.

Mr. Hall: No money was taken out?

Inspector Kent: No. He was too drunk to do that.

The Magistrate, (to the defendant): You are a young fool. Learn to behave yourself. If you pay $10 for the first charge and $100 on the other I will let you go.

THE VALUE OF CONFUCIANISM.

Tsing Hua College Honours the Sage.

The birthday of China's Great Sage was appropriately celebrated by the students of Tsing Hua College under the auspices of the Confucian Society. An elaborate programme was prepared, consisting of music, speeches, fireworks and motion pictures.

President Tsao in a short speech spoke on the importance of religion as a factor of civilization. Western civilization, according to the speaker, was derived from three principal sources, namely, Greek and Roman culture, science and religion. He urged the students to pay attention to the study of religion as a dynamic force, and find out the real intrinsic value of Confucianism.

CONFUCIANISM V. CONVENTIONALISM.

Prof. Liang Shu-ming, of the Peking Government University, read a paper on Confucianism versus Conventionalism. In showing the difference between the two, Prof. Liang pointed out that Conventionalism leads men to an objective mode in thought and action but Confucianism guides men to a subjective mode. Conventionalism as a means of preserving orderliness in society is necessary. Confucius and his disciples have advocated that convention should be used to guide people to become habitually moral beings. Our conception of Confucianism, the speaker concluded, should not be that of merely conforming to conventions.

Prof. Liang's paper was interpreted into English by Mr. C. T. Tsai, of the Tsing Hua faculty.

SHIPPING NEWS.

CHOSEN YUSEN KAISHA
CUTS FREIGHT CHARGES.

The Chosen Yusen Kaisha, the only regular mail steamship company working services under subsidy of the Korean Government General, has announced a 10 per cent. reduction on daily necessities under instructions of the Korean government. Following the examples set by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Osaka Shosen Kaisha the company will carry out also a 10 per cent. reduction on commodities consigned to co-operative societies and direct consumers. The reduction is made on goods including miso, soy, fish, flour, vegetable, firewood and charcoal, beef, chicken, pork, eggs and dried fish.

SEA POSTAL SERVICE.

Establishment of a sea post service out of Seattle for the Orient on Shipping Board vessels operated by the Admiral Line has been authorised by the postmaster-general and United States Shipping Board. It will be the first established on the Pacific Coast. The service will be in operation by November 1st and will speed up the delivery of ordinary mails to the Orient by one shilling and the delivery of mails coming from the Orient to Seattle and the state of Washington from twelve to twenty-four hours. Special quarters for handling mails will be fitted up on the five big Admiral liners, Presidents Madison, Jefferson, Jackson, Grant and McKinley, and one mail clerk will be stationed aboard each vessel. It will cost the Shipping Board approximately $6,000 to fit up each of the liners with mail quarters.

N.K.K. BUYS TWO MORE RIVER STEAMERS.

The Nisshin Kisen Kaisha has contracted for the purchase from Tege Koku, a Japanese shipping firm in Shanghai, the steamers Goho Maru and Choten Maru which are now being built in the Kiangnan shipbuilding yard. The ships are of 2,000 tons each and will be completed shortly. The Tege Yoko has incurred heavy losses during the prolonged shipping depression and was at a loss as to how to resuscitate its business. The firm used to carry on a very active business in the Yangtze River service, but it lost heavily by a reckless rate war. A severe competition among Chinese, British and Japanese steamers for the past two years spelled ruin to the company and it was forced to close its business partially. The firm now maintains the Ichang-Chungking service in Yokohama only nominally, and the business interest will be shortly transferred to the Nisshin Kisen Kaisha.

PACIFIC S.S. CO.

As a result of the continued increase in freight offerings for the Orient, the Pacific Steamship Company, operating five big freighters in addition to five passenger liners, announces a schedule whereby a sailing every thirty days to South China ports and Manila and a sailing every forty days to North China ports is afforded. The steamships Eldridge, Pomona and Hardy will be operated on the thirty-day schedule to Yokohama, Kobe, Foochow, Amoy, Swatow and the Philippines, with optional calls at Shanghai, commencing with the sailing Sept. 30 of the steamship Eldridge. The steamships Edmore and Wheatland Montana will operate to Dairen, Takubar, Tientsin and Shanghai via Japanese ports, with optional calls at Vladivostok if sufficient cargo is offered. This schedule is intended to take care of the freight offerings of Chinese ports not included in the present itinerary of the big passenger liners.

COMMERCIAL NEWS.

CHINESE STUDENTS IN U.S.A.

The University of Washington at Seattle has the largest department of foreign trade in the United States. With the exception of Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., it has the largest number of students enrolled. Next year Chinese students here on scholarships will serve apprenticeships with business men.

SLUDDING THE TARIFF.

Large cash deposits were held in Seattle by importers for use in immediately clearing upon the receipt of commodities which were affected by the president's signing of the new Tariff. Signing of the bill makes its provisions immediately operative. Increased tariffs on glass, manufactured silk, wool, cotton, wheat and oats, vegetable oils, Chinese foods, and peanuts were collected upon the act becoming effective.

SHANGHAI COAL MARKET.

Miss. Wheelock & Co., Shanghai, in their circular of 19th October, state: Japan Coal:—There is no change to report in the condition of our local market since last writing, and we have nothing further to add to our remarks of a fortnight ago. The market is very quiet. Fushun Coal:—No change. Fuchung Anthracite:—The market has shown signs of activity lately, and deliveries have been good. On account of its smokeless qualities this coal is becoming increasingly popular in large buildings where Central Heating is installed. Kaiping Coal:—Although one hears rumours of trouble in the North railway facilities continue to improve and a good deal of coal arrived during the last two weeks. This, however, passed rapidly into consumption and no stocks of any kind are accumulating. Prices remain quite firm which is a situation that prevails over the entire East at the present time.

COTTON CULTURE.

Long before the dawn of history the cotton plant was cultivated in various parts of the world, and the earliest records of spinning its fleecy balls are of such antiquity that it is difficult to obtain satisfactory evidence of its beginning. The name "cotton" itself is of Oriental origin, being derived from the Arabic "koton" or "goota." India is known as the motherland of cotton, and its earliest history is found in the Rig Veda hymn, composed 15 centuries before the Christian era, which honours the "threads of the loom," and also 3,000 years ago it was used as an ornamental shrub in Egypt. Alexander the Great acquainted Europe with India, and with that singular plant "vegetable wool," and often referred to "the trees of India bearing wool." Cotton was first imported into England in 1298 A.D., and the manufacture of cotton goods thereafter became one of its greatest industries. In the United States cotton became an early experimental plant, beginning in Virginia in 1600 A.D., and after that date its growth was very rapid. During the war of the American Revolution and immediately thereafter, cotton culture began to receive considerable attention in the Southern States; along the coast, the valuable sea island cotton was raised, and later, in the interior, the upland or green-seed cotton was raised.

DRIVEN TOGETHER.

Reuter certainly used the right description when he characterized as far-reaching the new trade agreement which has been signed in Warsaw between a big German consortium and the Soviet's Berlin representative. Without going again into the details of the scheme, as given by Reuter, it must have been plain to all who read them that Germany and Russia are intent on a "get together" movement, not only politically but commercially also. Since the fall of the Romanoffs, the peoples in other countries have been led to believe that Russia is a place that counts only for a pernicious political doctrine. They have forgotten that Russia is the largest country in Europe, that its population is also the largest in that continent, and that commercially Russia is a factor of tremendous importance. Germany, since its fall as a militarist power, has been endeavouring to build anew its industries and commercial organisations, but has, very largely, been handicapped and given the cold shoulder by those to whom she owes most. What more natural sequence, therefore, that she should turn to her vast neighbour whose own productive power is very much less than her needs and seek to make commercial agreements, and contacts?

The agreement of which Reuter told us yesterday is by no means the first. Continental correspondents of the leading Home journals have long since told the British public that there is growing up between Germany and Russia a commercial liaison of great magnitude and importance. The Russians have said to other countries "If you won't trade with us, then Germany will." And we have been content to look on, envious perhaps of the opportunities being seized by an old trade rival, but smugly saying that we can have nothing whatever to do with those horrible Bolsheviks—at least, not until they cease to be Bolsheviks. Allied diplomacy since the war has failed so far to heal the cleavages born of that conflict, but it is pertinent to ask when it is seriously going to attempt that long overdue task. The diplomats have ostracised Russia, have browbeaten Germany and yet they will possibly be annoyed when they find that these two countries—countries which count for a very great deal in Europe—have made their own arrangements for mutual commercial benefits. Even liberal-minded America has shunned everything Russian.

We are as much opposed to the doctrines of Karl Marx as are the diplomatists; we are as much as anybody in favour of Germany paying what she can; but we are also opposed to the foolish policy of attempting to cut Russia and Germany adrift from the rest of Europe and then trying to forget them. These countries cannot be cut adrift, we cannot afford to ignore them, and we ought to make every effort to get them both back as well-doing competitors in the world's great markets. By driving them into commercial insularity, the other countries of the world will lose far more than they will gain. And, what is more, they will delay the coming of the hoped-for day, when all the nations of the earth will be living in peace and concord.

Canton's New Mayor.

The appointment of a new Mayor in Canton provides an opportune occasion upon which to express the hope that the new administration will make it its business to see that the admirable municipal work begun by the former regime will be carried on without further interruption. The recent coup which led to the flight of Dr. Sun Yat-sen and his associates necessarily disturbed the whole municipal equilibrium and brought chaos into civic affairs. It may even yet take some time before matters can be properly straightened out, but we do trust that Mr. Kam Cheng, the new municipal head, will follow a progressive policy in all that he puts his hands to. A distinction must, of course, be drawn between the Canton Municipality and the Kwangtung Government, which one is rather apt to confuse. The new Mayor's business is to look after purely municipal matters in Canton city; he has, or should have, nothing to do with Provincial politics. Whatever we may have thought of the general political policy of Sun Yat-sen's Government, there can be no question of the splendid work which was done by the band of young enthusiasts headed by Mr. Sun Fo, the son of the Southern leader. They may have been inexperienced in some respects, but they were intensely earnest and honest. They had a vision of a better and a brighter Canton, and in the space of two years they did more to modernise the city than the whole of their predecessors had ever accomplished.

A Fine Legacy.

The work of these young men, however, was unfinished. Civil war interrupted it. But the legacy of a good beginning is left to those who have come after. As we have remarked, the new Mayor's job is essentially one of a municipal character, and he will be a wise man if he refrains from having anything whatever to do with politics. He has a great opportunity, and once the new municipal loan is put through, and the funds from it are available, he and his subordinates should be able to accomplish wonders for Canton. We wish him well in the task. But apart from the carrying out of material improvements, it is up to the municipal authorities to see that the inhabitants of the city are allowed to live in peace and tranquillity. The preservation of good order is a prime essential, and here there is still much room for improving existing conditions. The removal of the greater part of the troops from the city is a step in the right direction, but reports reach us that the soldiery, wearing special badges, still cause trouble on coming into the town, especially at the cinema shows, to which they seem to think they have right of free entry. These men must be kept in hand, and it is beyond the powers of the municipal authorities to do this work, then we look to General Chan King-ming, a strict disciplinarian, to see that the troops are restrained from causing trouble in any sphere whatsoever. The Canton Government is on its trial at the moment. Allowances will be made for the somewhat abnormal conditions still prevailing, but it should be the aim of all holding office to justify the changes which have taken place, when he died.

DAY BY DAY.

A LITTLE LEARNING IS A DANGEROUS THING, BUT TOO MANY HAVEN'T REACHED THE DANGER POINT.

Yesterday's health return shows one case each of enteric and cerebro-spinal fever. Both were Chinese.

Canton's Budget is as follows:—Education, $340,000; financial administration, $70,000; public health, $400,000; public works, $1,600,000; public utility administration, $100,000; police, $1,700,000.

General Chan Wing-sun has reported that the Hongkong magistracy and himself, with two battalions, have stormed the bandits' stronghold at Wong Leung Chun. A number of bandits were killed and captured, whilst over a thousand were dispersed.

The Ex-Active Service Men's Association have hit on rather a novel idea for raising funds for the Ministering Children's League. At their Armistice night dinner at the Hongkong Hotel it has been decided that poppies sold in aid of this cause shall be used for decorative purposes and during the evening a consignment of poppies will be auctioned in aid of the fund.

The Secretary of the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce (Mr. D. K. Blair) notifies that a donation of £55 to the Swatow Typhoon Relief Fund has been received (through the Colonial Secretary's Office) from the readers of the China Express and Telegraph, London, and has been remitted to the Swatow British Chamber of Commerce Relief Committee.

In response to numerous requests, the management of the Star Theatre are screening to-day at both shows Cecil de Mille's super-production "Why Change Your Wife?" which drew immense crowds to Kowloon when it was recently shown there. To-morrow a tale of the Old West, entitled "Scarlet Days," will be screened for the first time here, and the audience will be introduced to a number of well-known stars who combine to make this film one of the most notable pictures of the character hitherto shown here.

The new Mayor of Canton says he will take drastic measures against outrageous actions in the city and order the police to co-operate with the gendarmes and Merchants' Volunteer Corps in suppressing disturbances caused by discharged soldiers and other bad characters. He will try to complete the road-building scheduled by the former administration. He is also very much interested in the conditions of the labouring class. In view of the large number of labourers, without education, he will establish more evening schools for labourers.

The jumble sale held at Union Church yesterday, in aid of Home charities, was a great success, the articles exhibited being disposed of in very quick time. The arrangements were carried out by the Ladies' Committee and other ladies of the Church, including: Mrs. Macdonald (President), Mrs. Mackenzie, Mrs. McCubbin, Mrs. Dovey, Mrs. Milne, Mrs. G. Gerrard, Mrs. S. Nelson, Mrs. James Henderson, Mrs. Hickling, Mrs. A. T. Hamilton, Mrs. Craig, Mrs. J. Stewart, and Miss Templeton. In connection with Harvest Festival and Hospital Sunday this weekend, members are asked to send in their contributions of flowers, fruit and vegetables on Saturday.

LICENSING SESSIONS.

Police Objection to Japanese Hotel.

The annual Licensing Sessions were held in the Council Chamber this morning. The Hon. Mr. A.G.M. Fletcher presided and there were also present the Hon. Mr. A. R. Lowe, Messrs. G. M. Young, C. D. Melbourne and A. Denison and Major C. Willson (Secretary to the Licensing Board).

The applicants were as follows:—

Publicans' Licences.—Alfred Edward Wm. Davis, the Republic Bay Hotel; Colin F. Pratt, Hongkong Hotel; Job Wicheell, King Edward Hotel; Fritz Albert, Chopard, Astor House Hotel; James Henry Oxberry, Palace Hotel.

Hotel Keepers' Adjunct Licences.—Miss Natalie Gray Plunkett, Peak Hotel; Mrs. A. B. Sanderson Smith, Station Hotel; Mrs. Yoneko Uyetsuki, Tokyo Hotel; Isakichi Seki, Chitose Hotel; Ikuzo Nomura, Shokudoraku Hotel; Tokutaro Miyajima, Suehiro Hotel.

Restaurant Keepers' Adjunct Licences.—Joe Yamakawa, Yamakawa Hotel; D. M. Goodall, Wiseman Limited; Tokutaro Ishiyama, Iroha Hotel; Mrs. Nellie Babbage, Alexandra Cafe; Tokichi Murata, Tsukinoya; Mrs. Yone Nomura, Harunoya Hotel.

All the applications were granted without question, with the exception of that of the Suehiro Hotel, 45, Haiphong Road, Kowloon, kept by Mr. Tokutaro Miyajima.

With regard to this application, the Chairman said they had received a report from the police that was not altogether favourable. The gist of the statement was that the house was conducted in a disorderly manner, that a great deal of noise and shouting went on from very late hours and that it was frequented by Japanese women who were apparently not bona fide travellers.

The applicant denied these allegations.

The Chairman:—Is it a practice for Japanese women travelling alone to stay in your premises?—No.

The Chairman told applicant that the police reported that on Aug. 16th they went to the hotel and found ten Japanese women, of whom apparently only one was a visitor.

Applicant replied that the women had taken a walk. Their husbands had left them to take refreshments and they had their children with them. Applicant denied that women were in the habit of frequenting his premises. Mr. M. K. Lo, who appeared for applicant, said he knew nothing of the police charges except that they had made objections and he had come up really unprepared. It seemed to him, however, that this hotel had been going on for six years and the police should have warned the proprietor. Charges were made now of offences a long time ago and it was really very difficult for any man to defend himself—by bringing witnesses for instance. If the police report was very serious, a great injustice might be done to applicant. Mr. Lo understood that a long time ago either the C.S.P. or Mr. King sent for applicant and a complaint was made that the house was not closed at the proper time. Three officers were sent to watch on three nights subsequently, and as a result of that watch, the police were satisfied on this point.

Mr. King, A.S.P., said the police opinion was that this was not a proper hotel; it was more of a bar. For one thing there was no visitors' list. It was only during the last month that definite things came to the knowledge of the police, which made them come forward with this objection. The Chairman retorted there was nothing much before the Board at present.

Mr. King contended that it was not being run as a proper hotel.

The Chairman:—That is your suggestion. The proof is very unconvincing. The Board decided to renew the licence for a period of six months, at half the ordinary fee, in the first instance. They had decided not to record any conviction or black mark, but their action would give the police an opportunity of considering the matter and would also give the applicant time to see that the house was kept properly in order. He could apply for a renewal at the expiration of the six months.

"CHARLEY'S AUNT."

Last Night's Production.

"Charley's Aunt," the play that has never lost its popularity though as familiar to the past generation as to the present, was the attraction offered by the Farical Comedy Company at the Theatre Royal last night. It was immensely enjoyed by the large audience present, all the members of an able cast combining in happy mood to make the production a success. The result was a decided credit to those taking part, the play being excellently interpreted.

Mr. Warrington Barnes, the Company's leading man, made a great hit in the part of Colonel Chesney, showing himself a most accomplished actor, whilst the other parts were also well taken by Miss Minnie Rayner, Miss Margia La Rubia, Miss Daisy Revett, Miss Mary Charlton, Mr. D. J. Williams, Mr. Andrew Higginson, Mr. Victor Stanley, Mr. Bert Randall and Mr. David Keir.

"Her Husband's Wife" is being staged to-night.

THE CHARITY FETE.

Final Arrangements.

The public are particularly requested to note that, at the Fete to be held to-morrow at Government House by the Women's Guild and Ministering Children's League, entrance to the grounds will only be by the gate in Upper Albert Road. The only other rule that the public need to know about is one made for their own convenience. To avoid congestion, access to the front lawn, for tea, will be obtained through Government House itself and the way back to the Fete, from the tea garden, will be by the exterior of the building. Everything possible has been done to make the arrangements work smoothly; for example, a liberal supply of direction notices in English and Chinese will be found posted throughout the grounds.

The Fete will be opened at 2 p.m. by H. E. the Officer Administering the Government and from that time until midnight the public will find plenty to entertain them. At the same time they will have the agreeable consciousness that they are doing something for bad-pressed charities at Home.

This Fete has for many years past been well supported by the community, and we do not doubt that this occasion will form no exception to the general rule. The ladies and children of the Colony have been preparing for it for many weeks past, and a host of attractions are announced for this year's Bazaar. The proceeds are in aid of local charities and other children's fund as follows:—

Home Charities:—Hongkong Cot at M. C. L. Home, Otter, Surrey, Trafalgar Home & Orphanage, Chatham; Captain Hyatt Memorial Fund, (Imperial Merchant Service Guild); the Royal Soldiers' Daughters' Home, Hampshire; the Orphan Homes of Scotland (Queens); Officers' Families' Fund; "Evelina" Hospital for Children, Southwark, London; the Children's War of the London Hospital.

Local Charities:—French Convent, Italian Convent, Netherby Hospital, London Mission Training School, Baxter Mission Day Schools, Village School, Ful (Miss Pitts), C. M. S. Victor Home and Orphanage (Miss Storr), Blind Home, Kowloon.

It is earnestly hoped that a those who have not yet contributed to the funds or who cannot be present at the Bazaar will send donations, large or small, to the Hon. Treasurer, Lady Stuart Taylor, 4, Thorpe Manor, May Road.

FOOTBALL.

The following have been selected to represent the Kowloon Club in their 1st. Division fixture against the Club:—Townsend; Wheeler, Knight; Morrison, King, Pasco; Millard, E. G. Hall, R. I. Brown, Mason and Combs.

The following will represent the United Athletic Club in their 2nd. Division League fixture against H.M.S. Durban:—Beach; Chilton, Urquhart; Leonard, Mackenzie, Watkins; Botelho, Brown, May, Derry and Chubb. Reserves:—Blake and Jordan.

The following team will represent the Club in their League game with Kowloon:—Rodger; Israel, Bishop, McPhail, (Capt), Donovan, Moore; Purvis, Forsyth, Begg, Valentine and England.

THE CANTON LOANS.

Protest by Students.

The students of Canton have issued the following manifesto for distribution to the foreign consular and diplomatic representatives in Canton and Peking:

"We, the students of Kwangtung, China, do protest against further financial aid from foreign individuals, syndicates, or governments to the numerous political and military actions in China, as this outside supply of money and armaments has been the cause and means for the present internecine and fratricidal wars to continue in this country.

"We believe that the proposed 4,000,000 pounds sterling Kwangtung Government bonds to be issued at London through British bankers without approval of the National Assembly of the Republic and against the expressed wish of the Cantonese people may or will be diverted to other purposes than the rehabilitation of currency and the improvement of Canton public utilities. We, therefore, request not only the British Government to withhold its support from all British bankers dealing in this undertaking but also all friendly Powers to China to prevent their subjects from rendering aid of any kind which will delay the reunification of China."

Our Canton correspondent says there is a vast volume of literature abroad referring in unfavourable terms to the Foreign Loans, so the Civil Governor, Mr. Chan Chik-yue, has issued an order to all the printers in the city prohibiting them from publishing such matter. Printing matter seized under this order have amounted to 50,000 sheets, and these have been destroyed.

Acting under orders from the military headquarters, the Superintendent of the Telegraph Office has retained about a dozen telegrams sent by Hsu Sung-chih and Li Fook-lum to Dr. Sun's adherents in Canton. These have been sent to Headquarters for investigation.

No es again Slump.

In spite of the prospect of the loans being put through, our Canton correspondent states, Canton banknotes have declined to 40 per cent, while Hongkong notes are at 25 per cent, premium as against subsidiary coin.

A HEROIC MURDERER.

Tales of the Australian Aboriginal.

How an Australian aboriginal murderer, who was being escorted to gaol by a policeman, at the risk of his own life saved his captor from a watery grave was one of the remarkable stories told about this little-known race of people by Captain David Doull, of Australia, at an interesting lecture delivered at the Tai Koo Club last night. While crossing a swollen river the policeman was swept off his horse into the water. The black, who had reached the bank in safety, seeing the officer's plight, jumped in without the slightest hesitation and, placing his manacled hands under the policeman's head, succeeded in getting safely to shore.

The way in which the Australian aborigines treat their dead is interesting. The corpses are left in bark shrouds in the tree tops and sometimes the flesh off the arms and legs of dead foes is eaten. Eating the fat off a dead relative's cheeks is supposed to take away the sadness of bereavement.

The aboriginal youth who has to go through the various ceremonies necessary to obtain the full status of his tribe is not to be envied. At the age of ten the boy is taken out, painted with ochre and repeatedly tossed into the air and caught by the assembled warriors. Later he is placed on the ground and one of his front teeth is knocked out with a stone. Up to the age of twenty-five he has to go through many more ceremonies and is then allowed to participate in the daily hunt for food.

An interesting character in the tribe is the doctor. His body is supposed to contain a lizard, which enables him to supply sufficient suction power to remove all disorders. When the doctor sucks the blood from a patient's wound all the badness is supposed to come out with it.

No lecture on the Australian aboriginal would be complete without some reference to the black's prowess as a tracker. Bending his body almost double, and his piercing eyes glued to the ground, the aboriginal can follow with the unerring instinct of a bloodhound the trail of a horse or man a week after the quarry has passed.

CARPENTIER KNOCKED OUT.

Story of Siki's Victory.

Paris, Sept. 24.—There was a dramatic and amazing finish to the match for the Light-heavyweight Championship of the world and the Heavyweight Championship of Europe between Carpentier and Battling Siki in Paris this afternoon.

When he left his corner for the sixth round Carpentier was a beaten man, bleeding profusely, his right eye nearly closed, and scarcely able to defend himself from the blows which his Senegalese opponent rained heavily upon him.

Siki, still pressing for the fight, drove the famous, but now helpless, French boxer to his corner, where he crouched limply against the ropes. He managed to protect his head, but a final terrific right in the centre of the back sent him sprawling to the boards under the ropes. Unluckily for Siki, his right foot was in front of Carpentier, who fell over him and at the very moment of victory the Senegalese was disqualified by the referee. This surprising decision was not given immediately, and later it was reversed by the Judges and the fight was awarded to Siki.

Siki, meantime, was hoisted on to his second's shoulders and waved his arms gaily to the dense mass of spectators who filled the great Velodrome. There were at least sixty thousand of them, and their feelings were deeply stirred, as was natural enough, by the pitiless spectacle which Siki had made of their famous idol. Descamps and his assistants did all that second could do to wash away the stains of battle and revive their champion's spirits, but one felt that the attention of a medical man would have been more to the purpose. Stripped as he was, and without waiting even for his dressing-gown, Carpentier left his chair and crawled through the ropes. He could scarcely stand. He sat on the edge of the ring while a soiled towel was thrown over his aching shoulders, and he was then carried away. Siki's foot was certainly in the way, but Carpentier, a bent and broken figure on the ropes, was knocked down by the final blow in the back—as will no doubt be proved by the kinema record—and would have fallen a helpless man in any case.

It was a very different end from that which was expected when the fight was begun, though it was remarked by many that he was not the Carpentier of old. He gave one the impression of not being sufficiently trained, and he had the air of a man who thought lightly of the task before him. His welcome, when he entered the ring, was as enthusiastic as he could wish for. Siki, too, who had entered before him, was the object of encouraging cheers. The crowd thought he needed them. They, like Carpentier, underestimated Siki's power of withstanding punishment, and his qualities as a boxer. It was lightly assumed that the match had been arranged more to give them an opportunity to see their idol in action than to test any serious pretensions of his opponent. It was forgotten that Siki had some slight advantage in weight and a five years' advantage in age, and that although his career has been short he has never been knocked out. Only recently he beat that excellent French boxer Nilles.

Siki's Tactics. Carpentier seemed to share the unwarranted confidence of his supporters, and in the first round it might well have been thought that his only aim was to amuse the crowd, and to pose for a film. He towered over his coloured opponent, who came at him in a crouching attitude, his head buried between his gloves. Carpentier kept him away with a straight left, and an occasional gentle tap on the head. But Siki suddenly jumped in with a swinging right, which, shook Carpentier considerably, and warned him to take matters more seriously. No serious damage had, however, been done. The second round opened with a spell of in-fighting, in which the combatants delivered piston-like blows at the stomach. Siki, jumping away, swung right and left, but the blows fell harmlessly on Carpentier's shoulders. The latter retaliated with right and left at the head, but not quickly enough. The coloured man cleverly ducked, and sought safety in a clinch. Separated by the referee, Siki then stood in the ring, his head again buried in his gloves, and Carpentier was still standing over him waiting

PASSION'S PLAYGROUND.

At the Coronet.

There are many people for whom, like Bluebeard's wife, the thing they are warned against immediately takes on a fatal attraction. Of this type is Mary Grant, the heroine of "Passion's Playground" which comes to the Coronet to-day. Warned that her father was an inveterate gambler and that she must on that account give Monte Carlo a wide berth Mary at once decides to run away from the Scottish convent that shelters her and make her way to the famous gambling resort whenever opportunity offers. Opportunity does offer when she comes into an inheritance and after she has figured as the girl who broke the bank at Monte Carlo a couple of adventures mark her down as a likely victim. A handsome Prince intervenes at the right moment, however, and in a dramatic climax, proves his mettle and so wins her love.

Katherine MacDonald, the beautiful American film star, gives a notable performance as the heroine and is supported by a very fine cast. The picture has been adapted from the widely read story "The Guests of Hercules" by C. N. and A. M. Williamson.

MARRIAGE IN PAWN.

A bridal couple at Mansfield found themselves after the ceremony without the ten shillings and sevenpence due for fees. They have been allowed a fortnight's grace by the vergor, who has withheld the marriage certificate as security. As the bridegroom is a soldier, the bride must have the certificate to prove to the War Office that she is a wife.—Home paper.

for an opening when the gong sounded.

The third round saw Siki take the initiative with swinging blows right and left at the ribs, but Carpentier staggered him with a terrific right behind the ear. Momentarily then Siki sought his own corner, where another blow in the back of the head brought him to his knees for a seven seconds count. The crowd anticipated that the end had come, and yelled their delight. It was indeed the beginning of the end, but not the end that was looked for. Siki suddenly revived, drove Carpentier into the centre of the ring, and with a swiftness right sent him to the boards. Carpentier was immediately on his feet again, but he was badly shaken, and sought to save himself by wild exchanges. Siki, however, missed his chance of a knockout before the gong sounded.

Carpentier came up for the fourth round sadly weakened, and scarcely able to defend himself, with blood flowing freely from his mouth. Covering his face with his gloves he leaned on Siki in sore distress. Siki drove him away with right and left to the head. Carpentier then encouraged his supporters by making some show of again taking the initiative, but his blows were wild and ineffective. Several severe uppercuts weakened him still further. He was driven to the ropes in his corner, and only the gong saved him. The fifth round began with in-fighting, in which Siki rained body blows on his almost inanimate opponent. Both of them were warned for holding, although Carpentier was certainly the worst offender. When they were separated Carpentier made a wild dash at his opponent with his head down, and, catching him with his shoulder, sent him sprawling on the ropes. Siki was on his legs again at once.

Carpentier, scarcely conscious of what he was doing, went at his opponent again, beating the air with right and left and fell across the ropes. Siki helped him to his feet, and received a blow in the face for his pains. Carpentier did not know what he was doing, but the spectators howled their disapproval. When Carpentier left his corner for the last time Siki rushed at him with right and left and drove him to the ropes, where he collapsed a helpless and beaten man.

The referee, who was in the ring, was M. Henry Bernstein, and the three judges were M. Victor Breyer, Mr. Bannison, and M. Pujot. The referee's decision to disqualify Siki was based on a medical opinion that Carpentier's leg had been severely strained, and he could not continue the fight. The judges, however, after a short discussion, overruled this decision and gave judgment that Siki was the victor by a knockout.—Times.

LONDON WOMEN TEACHERS' REVOLT.

Refusal to Work with the Unqualified.

The refusal of women teachers employed by the L.C.C. to co-operate with the education officials in training "infants' assistants" came to a head on September 26. This dispute with the Council is the result of the decision of the education authorities to employ 100 women, qualified by three months' training, to teach children under the compulsory school age.

There are in the L.C.C. schools, 100,000 children under school age, and they are taught by 2,000 certificated teachers. Some time ago the L.C.C. advertised for women between the ages of 18 and 30, of good general education, to fill positions as "infants' assistants," so replacing 100 of the certificated teachers now employed.

Several of the 100 women selected went for the first time on September 26 to various schools for observation. Under instructions from the National Union of Women Teachers, headmistresses refused to accept these learners, who were asked to leave the premises.

The views of the women teachers were given to a Daily Chronicle representative by Miss Coombes, L.L.A., organising secretary of the union.

"In London 500 qualified supply teachers are out of work," she said. "Moreover, there are taking the country as a whole, 800 young women fresh from college who are unable to obtain work. Many of these women were trained in London.

"We believe that the teaching of very small children is as important as the teaching of older children."

These semi-qualified teachers, if agreed by the Board of Education, will be paid at the rate of £110 a year, rising by annual increments to £155 a year. The average pay of a certificated assistant mistress is £205 a year. The step taken by the L.C.C. is part of the economy campaign in education.

AN EXPERIMENT. It is regarded by officials as an experiment, but it was admitted to the Daily Chronicle representative that, if successful, it might gradually be applied in all L.C.C. schools, so that the 2,000 teachers now instructing the very young might be replaced.

A deputation from the N.U.W.T. was received by Sir Robert Blair, education officer, in the morning, and as a result of the conference agreed, pending consideration of the question by the Council, not to refuse these "assistants' admission to the schools.

Later in the day another deputation from the union went to the clerk of the Council, asking that a special meeting of the Council should be summoned.

The ball is hoisted half mast at the 55th minute and full mast at the 57th minute. Should the ball fail to drop at the correct time, it will be lowered at five minutes past the hour and the ordinary routine repeated at following hour, if possible.

Should the time ball be out of order the above routine will be carried out with flag "Z" on the storm signal mast.

The signal are also given at night by means of three white lamps mounted vertically on the Observatory wireless mast. From 8h. 56m. 04. to 9h. 0m. 03. p.m. the lamps are extinguished momentarily at the even seconds except at the 2nd, 28th, 50th, 52nd, and 54th of each minute.

The hours refer to Hongkong Standard Time (8 hours of time Greenwich).
